

At Fort Greely Religious Support Office, you are cared for like Family

Special Programs

Is there a particular need in your unit or department? Do you have an idea for a program that you would like to start? The Chaplain can be a sounding board, suggest resources, and help you develop the right approach.

Leaders & their Families

The Chaplain provides care-for-the care-giver: a safe place for leaders and their families to address their personal concerns. All counseling is kept confidential from the technical supervisory chain.

Appointments

Your scheduled appointment is a time specifically set aside for you. If you are unable to keep any appointment, please inform the Chaplain in advance.

Mission

The Fort Greely Religious Support Office and Counseling Center (RSOCC) resources Pastoral Care for Soldiers, tenants/units, directorates, authorized Civilians, and Family Members at Fort Greely. Our RSOCC staff is a dynamic group of professionals who are committed to supporting the spiritual, physical, emotional, and social growth and development of each person within the entire Fort Greely Community.

What is a Family Life Chaplain?

In addition to being ordained ministers in their particular religious faith group, Family Life Chaplains have received specialized marriage and family training through one of the Army's Family Life Training Centers. In addition to psychological approaches to life issues, Family Life Chaplains can assist clients in drawing on resources from their own faith community.

Services Provided

- ◆ Worship Services: Preaching, Teaching, and leading Special Events
- ◆ Counseling referrals from unit Chaplains for married and single Soldiers, Family Members, and authorized Civilians
- ◆ Specialized support groups (grief care, AA, transition, miscarriage support, etc.)
- ◆ Co-counseling and counseling supervision with unit Chaplains
- ◆ Community care resources and referrals for Soldiers and Families with particular concerns
- ◆ Training in Deployment Cycle Support (DCS) skills and programs
- ◆ Preventive relationship education
- ◆ Training in various Army well-being programs, including Strong Bonds, suicide prevention, sexual assault prevention, domestic violence, etc.
- ◆ Resiliency & Team Building training
- ◆ FRG support with family life briefings/classes
- ◆ Support to the Fort Greely Case Review Committee and Community Health Promotion Council
- ◆ Resource for family life best practices and trends

Confidentiality

The Chaplain maintains strict confidentiality. As Chaplains and Pastoral counselors, our Soldiers have entrusted to our care certain confidential information. We recognize that our relationship with our Soldiers is based on trust, and that we are expected to treat personal issues as private matters. If you were referred by another professional person (chaplain, counselor, physician, chain of command, etc.), that person will not have access to your case information without your authorization.

Treatment Methods

There are many professionally appropriate ways to approach counseling issues. Depending upon the need, counseling may be done individually, with couples, with families, or in any combination of these models. After an initial diagnostic period, the Chaplain will discuss recommendations with you regarding the treatment method. Please bring up any questions you may have about this process.
